

ESOL IPT Assessment during Remote Learning

This course is designed to prepare school personnel to administer the IDEA Proficiency Test (IPT) assessment in a virtual setting. New assessors must attend in order to successfully administer the assessment in a virtual setting. This is only for the Listening and Speaking sections of the IPT assessment. The Reading and Writing will need to be taken at a later date in order to be fully qualified as a district trainer. This data is essential for purposes of identification, placement of ELLs, and progress-monitoring.
